Tips for Distance Learning
April 1, 2020

Parents and Students,

It’s hump day! We have almost made it through week one of distance learning! (Insert virtual high five)

Here are a few tips that have been shared by other students that may make things easier for you as we prepare to enter week two of distance learning on April 6th.

• Some students are finding it easier to focus on one or two classes a day, rather than trying to do every class, every day. Here is a sample schedule that you may like. You can adjust it to fit your needs and preferences.
  o Monday- Look over your assignments and plan out a schedule for the week.
  o Tuesday- Complete all of the work for Math and electives
  o Wednesday- Complete all of the work for English and Bible o Thursday- Complete all of the work for Science and History
  o Friday- Finish up any assignments and submit your assignments by 4:00 p.m.

• Remember, in RenWeb you can sort by subject or by date. Sorting by subject is an easier way for you to view the requirements and documents for each class for the week.
